The Annual General Meeting – page 94 |
Typically in large and complex companies such as QinetiQ, the Directors fulfil their duties partly through a governance framework that delegates day-to-day decision making to the employees of the Company. The Board recognises that such delegation needs to be part of a robust governance structure, which covers our values, how we engage with our stakeholders, and how the Board assures itself that the governance structure and systems of controls continue to be robust. The main methods used by the Directors to perform their duties include:

- An annual strategy meeting which assesses the long-term sustainable success of the Group and our impact on our investors, customers, employees, and local communities.
- Board risk management procedures that identify the potential consequences of decisions in the short, medium and long term, so that mitigation plans can be put in place to prevent, reduce or eliminate risks to our business and wider stakeholders (see pages 75 to 83).
- The Board setting the Group’s purpose, values and strategy, ensuring it is aligned with our culture (see page 104).
- External assurance, received through audits, stakeholder surveys and reports from brokers and other advisers.
- Specific training for our Directors and senior managers (see page 119).
- Regularly scheduled Board presentations and reports, for example: customer engagement, risk register reports, health and safety reports, confidential reporting, defence process review, dividend policy, people and culture strategy, and operational business updates.
- Corporate responsibility oversight, including business ethics, anti-bribery and corruption, human rights, modern slavery, environmental stewardship and use of resources, sustainable solutions, greenhouse gas emissions and energy management, investing in our local communities and our commitment to the armed forces.
- Formal consideration of any these factors which are relevant to any major decisions taken by the Board throughout the year.
- Many of these topics are regularly reviewed through the Board risk management process and the Audit Committee, Risk and Security Committee and Remuneration Committee.

Our Group Chair, with the assistance of the Company Secretary, sets the agenda for each Board meeting to ensure that the requirements of section 172 are always met and considered through a combination of the following:

- Board papers which ensure that stakeholder factors are addressed where judged relevant.
- Standing agenda matters presented at each Board meeting: for example, the CEO presents updates on the financial overview, strategic progress, investor relations, business development, and operational progress. The Company Secretary also presents at each Board meeting detailing relevant corporate governance and compliance matters.
- A rolling agenda of matters to be considered by the Board throughout the year, including a two-day strategy review, which considers the purpose and strategy for the Group, supported by a budget for the following year and a medium-term (five-year) financial plan. Agenda items for the following year are set, based on the discussions held and decisions taken by the Board throughout the year.
- A consistent approach to minute-taking with details as to when section 172 factors are being considered.
